International Criminal Register (ICR)
 The International Criminal Register (ICR) is an up to date list of the currently active 800,000 or so wanted criminals. The ICR includes a wealth of information such as last known whereabouts, places of business, aliases, operational methods, associates etc. Some wanted parties are not on this list because a UIG operation may be currently in action against them.

UIG World Database
 Often heavily restricted, the UIG World Database contains the DNA, fingerprints and profiles of all Citizens, Criminals, Agents, Officers and Faithful. Some of these individuals may have privacy licenses in place and many people may be removed from the database for various reasons. The license to use this database is only given out to trusted individuals who have the good of the populace in mind. Subjects in the database outranking a given user will come up as 'Red Entries' and UIG permission must be sought to identify them.
